

Special Collections Division Public Services

Call us

Manuscripts and Rare Books, University Archives,
Digital Collections: 252-328-6671
North Carolina Collection: 252-328-6601

Online Reference Service

Manuscripts and Rare Books, Digital Collections,
University Archives: specialcollections@ecu.edu
North Carolina Collection: nccollection@ecu.edu

Request an Instruction Session:

<http://media.lib.ecu.edu/spclcoll/instructionSched.cfm>

Research Consultations

We are available:
In person
By telephone
Via email

Verona Joyner Langford North Carolina Collection (Third Floor)

The Verona Joyner Langford North Carolina Collection provides materials relating to North Carolina history and culture, including:

- Education, art, architecture, folkways, cooking, and social life in eastern North Carolina
- Flora, fauna, and geology
- History, especially the Colonial, Antebellum and Civil War periods
- North Carolina fiction
- Historic maps and newspapers
- Church, county and family histories

Manuscripts and Rare Books (Fourth Floor)

Manuscripts (diaries, financial records, letters, oral histories, photographs) and rare books pertaining to these topics and more:

- North Carolina, including economics, politics, race relations, social life, and women's history
- International communism, radical literature, and anti-communist literature
- Military history, especially the Civil War, World War I, and World War II
- Southern literature, including the works of notable twentieth-century poets and novelists
- Tobacco culture, manufacturing, and trade, especially in North Carolina and China
- Work of Christian missionaries in China, Africa, South America, and elsewhere
- U.S. Navy, maritime studies, and naval collections from the early nineteenth century to present

University Archives (Fourth Floor)

University Archives collects the historical records of all aspects of East Carolina University's past from 1907 to the present including:

- Publications produced by and about East Carolina such as yearbooks, newspapers, catalogs, and campus histories.
- Photographs, videos, and audio tapes that document athletics, campus life, and performances by faculty, students, and guests brought to campus.
- Memorabilia related to student life, athletics, and instruction.
- Other material important to a variety of important themes in campus history including desegregation, campus growth, the Brody School of Medicine, and new additions to the curriculum.

Digital Collections (<http://digital.lib.ecu.edu/>)

Joyner Library's Digital Collections unit supports the research and teaching mission of the university and preserves the cultural heritage of the eastern North Carolina through digital initiatives, especially the creation of digital library materials and tools. Its holdings directly reflect the subjects and formats that are collected in their physical form by other departments in the Special Collections Division.

